

While you were out on the seas...

*...Provimar has changed its name
to EMS Ship Supply*

*We are not the same company any more.
We are much better!*

However close to home or far away you find your fishing grounds, providing you with the equipment you need is a global undertaking, with supply lines from every corner of the world. To keep your fishing profitable we aim to deal in bigger volumes, with more buying power and ever more efficient logistics. We remain the same skilled and dedicated people who always welcome you home to port. But we are not Provimar any more. We are better. We are EMS Ship Supply, the biggest ship supply company in the world.
